Privacy Notice

Your privacy is important to us and this notice discloses practices Wright Library employs to protect your privacy through this website and its services and content.

Wright Memorial Public Library's website collects visitor information through cookie technology and information provided by you. Information collected is used for statistical purposes that enable the Library to improve services, fulfill your requests, and communicate with you. Some services require collecting personal identifiable information. This information is used only to notify you of fulfillment of the services you have requested.

Wright Memorial Public Library uses Google Analytics to track general use, but does not track or permanently record information about individuals and their visits. (How Google uses data.)

Wright Library does not share information from its patron database. Ohio Revised Code Sec. 149.432 provides that library records containing user information are confidential and are not open to the public, except in very limited and specific circumstances. See the Library's Public Policy Manual for additional information.

Wright Memorial Public Library employs safeguards to keep your information confidential, but the Library cannot ensure absolute security. There are cases of computer security breaches that demonstrate the impossibility of any entity being able to ensure complete security.

WrightLibrary.org provides links to other websites and encourages patrons to carefully review privacy policies on those sites before using their services. This privacy notice does not apply to sites other than WrightLibrary.org.

This privacy notice is subject to change as situations may arise to make changes necessary. We will keep the most up-to-date privacy notice posted. Thank you for being a patron of Wright Memorial Public Library and for visiting our website.
